Built for driven people with PURPOSE

We build spaces where business and belonging meet.
Where customers connect.
Where communities grow.

InsideOut is more than property.
It's an ecosystem.

It started in CENTURION

InsideOut Rockfields launched with a simple vision, create a curated mixed-use village centred on opportunity, growth and community.

Today it is home to thriving restaurants, retailers and professionals who form part of a powerful business community.

Not tenants.
Insiders.

Where Purpose Meets PLACE

We co-create growth opportunities for purpose-driven people and businesses who seek extraordinary spaces, and we manage these spaces to serve people and impact communities.

At Power of Co, we co-create growth opportunities for purpose-driven people and businesses seeking extraordinary spaces. We develop and manage environments designed to serve people, nurture community, and unlock potential.

Our spaces are intentionally designed as dynamic mixed-use destinations, bringing together premium offices, retail, service-based businesses, showrooms, light manufacturing, restaurants and hospitality experiences, theatres, events, and community gathering spaces.

powerofco[®]

Our journey has been one of discovery, uncovering a deeper purpose, passion, and pattern for possibility. As developers, we believe every building carries both a purpose and a promise.

Every space we create follows a thoughtful pattern designed to spark potential, enabling the people who enter it to build, grow, collaborate, and create meaningful impact.

At Power of Co, we don't simply develop property. We create places where people, businesses, and communities flourish.

We believe that when the right people meet the right space, extraordinary things happen.

Be part of something BIGGER
